PRICE HISTORY

FEEDBACK HIGHLIGHTS

The feedback for Sielo Robotics is generally positive, highlighting the innovative nature of the product and its potential impact in the market. Investors appreciate the strong team behind the startup and the accessibility of the technology. However, there are concerns regarding the pricing strategy, particularly its affordability for users in need. Some investors also noted issues with the voice model and the need for more liquidity. Overall, the startup is viewed as having a solid foundation but requires attention to specific operational challenges.

Have you thought of creating maybe some more affordable models that are not as capable for more minor disabilities?

(Luka Jovanović)

Why included: This feedback addresses the concern about pricing and suggests a potential product line expansion to cater to a broader audience.

I don't think people enjoy talking to AI. Hard to learn. Also hard to pitch to insurance. Also foreign language could be an issue.

(Elena L)

Why included: This note highlights specific challenges in user experience and market positioning that need to be addressed.

Sell

(Abhinav)

Why included: This indicates a potential lack of confidence in the current valuation or market conditions, suggesting the need for improved communication about the company's value proposition.

Good

(Asher Essien)

Why included: While brief, this positive note can be interpreted as a signal of investor interest, which is valuable for morale.

Wow amazing innovation easy to control and safe to use...price is great...

(Lalith Gunaratne)

Why included: This feedback reinforces the product's strengths and can be used to bolster marketing efforts.

you are addressing a genuine problem and has a viable business model

(Abhinav Thukral)

Why included: This note emphasizes the startup's relevance and potential, which can be leveraged in investor pitches.
